PRESIDENTIAL RAMBLINGS

Hello All,

The meeting at David's place went very well last month, with all the bases covered for organising the Easter 2003 gathering. A venue for accommodation has been finalised and from now on it is just a matter of fine tuning now.

It was very kind of Michael to bring along some of his collection of P76 memorabilia to have a look at. It was interesting to see some stuff I had never seen before. There was even things that David and Ed had never previously encountered.

I too have been bitten by the memorabilia bug. Using the internet I have tracked down a copy of the book, A boot full of right arms. As well as a copy of the 1982 movie Midnite spares the climax of which is a car chase where the bad guy drives a P76, but of course he dies in a fiery crash.

See you all on Monday.

Alex.
