AUSTRALIA DAY WEEKEND

Saturday: Once again another excuse for a holiday, van packed, car ready (unfortunately not the Leyland yet) time to set sail. We're off to Strathalbyn for the Cars of Australia show on the Australia Day Monday where the Club has entered 4 cars

The caravan park has changed a bit since last year so we didn't have quite the same spot. We set up camp, lunch organized and ready to relax. Nigel's been busy at work so he just sat and read a book, I read the paper. There was a lot going on in Strath this weekend so the caravan park was pretty full.

Sunday: I got up first and headed in to town to get the paper. We had breakfast then Nigel put pen to paper to work out how much space we needed to set up the cars with the gazebo nearby. In the afternoon we went for a walk to stretch the legs and check out the shops (always looking for things for Easter) and had a coffee. Went back to the showground where the oval had been marked out for the car show and we worked out where we thought we would be.

Monday: 7am and the PA system at the oval fires up "testing , testing 123 etc Happy Birthday Jim ( whoever Jim is) and then Abba for the next 2 hours. Needless to say everyone in the whole area is awake now. Might as well get up, everyone else is. Chris had rung and said she was leaving home about 8-8.15. We loaded up Max and headed over to drop off the gazebo, banners and chairs. Found our allocated spot and started setting up. Chris arrived, park here, no a bit to the right, come forward a bit, finally just right. Keith and Mrs Keith (Sandy) showed up soon after followed by Wayne and Helen, Andrew a little later with 3 boys in tow. So with the cars in place, banners and the gazebo up and centered nicely, we did look pretty special. Looked like we had made an effort and people noticed, lots of comments.

We all went our separate ways to find coffee, snacks, lunch and toilets etc. Andrew waited till we came back then he went. He came back with a seafood chest, looked better than my cold sausage roll.

We didn't get any prizes but we were pretty proud of ourselves and for the 4 cars that made the effort, I thank you.

We didn't forget the birthday boy. It was Wayne's 70th and we sang "Happy Birthday"

About 3.30pm people started packing up so we did likewise. Everyone went their separate ways and we went back to the caravan park and left on the Tuesday.

One thing I forgot to mention is that it was freezing at odd times during the day with some light sprinkles too. A good day though.

PRESIDENT'S RAMBLINGS

Well here we are 2015 and well into it, I hope you have all recovered from the festivities and have settled down into some sort of normality.

For us, the organizing committee for the Easter Nationals, things are gaining momentum. Finalising numbers for meals, confirming pricing for merchandising items, having a guess at what our visitors would like on their menus for the meals, what colour shirts would look good yet represent us in SA, all these sort of details have to be sorted. We are progressing well through these challenges.

Also to this end, Easter that is, Sherman the car continues to evolve. The engine and refurbished gearbox are back in the engine bay and I am now in the throes of sorting the wiring which is mostly tucked away out of sight. Because I will be running a different carby (Nikki from a Mazda rotary), I have to re-route the fuel lines and keep them tidy at the same time. Fitting extractors meant exhaust pipe work where I manufactured a pair of flanges and welded them in position to enable any future works to occur with a minimum of fuss. Other ancillary items need cleaning and painting where applicable as they come into play. Keeps me out of the pub.

In the back garden our tomatoes have been producing prolifically and as a consequence we have been making sauce, relish, passatta and anything else we can think of to do with tomatoes. Sweet corn has also been producing well and we can only eat so much at once so blanching and freezing has been the order of the day for those.

At work for me is getting busy too as we prepare to move our workshop from Lonsdale to our new building at the old Mitsubishi site at Tonsley Park also at around Easter time. As we move we are having a monster cleanout along the principle that if we haven't used something during the last 18 months we don't need it. I think this is going to catch us out big time but what do I know.

That's it for now but stay tuned for Easter updates and get your Rocker Covers racing.

..... Nigel
